The First Ecumenical Council – 325 AD

The First Ecumenical Council was convened by the Roman (Byzantine) Emperor Constantine in the year 325 AD. (We commemorate this Emperor in the Church as Saint Constantine the Great.) This Council was the first effort to gather together as many Christian bishops as possible, from all of Christendom, to address certain issues facing the Christian Church. It was made possible by the fact that the Emperor himself had accepted the Christian Faith as his own, and so, at least for a time, the persecution of Christians in the Roman Empire had ceased. Many of the participants in the First Ecumenical Council were Christian persons who had previously suffered greatly for Christ, during persecutions that were enforced by some of the Emperor Constantine's predecessors.

The most famous of the Council's accomplishments was the promulgation of the first half of what we today refer to as "The Creed." We recite the Creed at every Divine Liturgy that we celebrate in the Church, recalling and retelling the central tenets of our Orthodox Christian Faith. The second half of the Creed was composed and promulgated at the Second Ecumenical Council in 381 AD.

Another of the First Council's accomplishments was to establish a common date on which all Christians would celebrate Holy Pascha. Sadly, since that time, due to splits in the Church, Christians no longer all keep Pascha on the same day each year. Nevertheless, through the witness of the Fathers of the First Ecumenical Council, we see that such a common celebration is the desire of the Church.

LOOKING AHEAD:

- NEXT SATURDAY: The Pre-Pentecost Memorial Saturday, June 11: Saturday, June 11, is the Pre-Pentecost Memorial Saturday this year. Memorial Saturdays, which occur a number of times during the year, are days set apart in the Church's liturgical calendar for special and careful commemoration of the departed. We will mark the Pre-Pentecost Memorial Saturday with a Memorial Service ("Panikhida") beginning at 6:00 PM, just before the Vigil of Pentecost (Great Vespers with Litya) that we will serve beginning at 6:30 PM.
- NEXT SUNDAY: Sunday of Holy Pentecost, Sunday, June 12: On Sunday, June 12, we will celebrate the Feast of Holy Pentecost. On Pentecost we commemorate the occasion when, fifty days after the resurrection from the dead of our Lord, God, and Savior, Jesus Christ, the Holy Spirit was poured out upon the Apostles of Christ. Through that outpouring, the Apostles were strengthened to preach the Good News about Our Lord, and to grow the Church, the Body of Christ. One custom in the Church on the Feast of Holy Pentecost is to bring back kneeling to our life of prayer. It is customary for Orthodox Christians to pray standing on their feet, and to not kneel down in prayer, during the fifty days following Holy Pascha. This standing in prayer reminds us about how Our Lord, raised from the dead, stood among His disciples in the days following His Resurrection, showing Himself alive in His Resurrection Body, victorious over death and decay. (This is, also, why we do not kneel in the Orthodox Church on Sundays, for every Sunday is a "little Pascha.") So, having stood in prayer for fifty days from Pascha to Pentecost, on Pentecost the Church assigns special prayers, often called "The Kneeling Prayers of Pentecost." During those Kneeling Prayers we solemnly kneel and pray in that pious and humble posture, once again. In our parish, the Kneeling Prayers of Pentecost are read at the conclusion of the Divine Liturgy on the Sunday of Holy Pentecost.
- LOOKING AHEAD: The Apostles' Fast: The Apostles' Fast (also known as The Saints Peter and Paul Fast) begins this year on Monday, June 20, and lasts a week and a half, until the feast of the Holy Apostles, Saints Peter and Paul, which takes place on June 29. The Apostles' Fast always begins on the Monday after All Saints Day (the second Monday after Pentecost) and always ends on the Feast of Saints Peter and Paul, which is always solemnized on June 29. This fasting period comes following all the celebrating we have been doing during the Paschal season, and, therefore, serves to return us to what might be called "regular time" in the Church.

Readings from Holy Scripture

Scripture Readings for the Sunday between the Feasts of Ascension and Pentecost, on which we commemorate the Holy Fathers of the First Ecumenical Council

The Reading from the Acts of the Holy Apostles (Acts 20:16-18, 28-36)

At that time, Paul had decided to sail past Ephesus, so that he might not have to spend time in Asia; for he was hastening to be at Jerusalem, if possible, on the day of Pentecost. And from Miletus he sent to Ephesus and called to him the elders of the church. And when they came to him, he said to them: "You yourselves know how I lived among you all the time from the first day that I set foot in Asia, Take heed to yourselves and to all the flock, in which the Holy Spirit has made you overseers, to care for the church of God which he obtained with the blood of his own Son. I know that after my departure fierce wolves will come in among you, not sparing the flock; and from among your own selves will arise men speaking perverse things, to draw away the disciples after them. Therefore be alert, remembering that for three years I did not cease night or day to admonish every one with tears. And now I commend you to God and to the word of his grace, which is able to build you up and to give you the inheritance among all those who are sanctified. I coveted no one's silver or gold or apparel. You yourselves know that these hands ministered to my necessities, and to those who were with me. In all things I have shown you that by so toiling one must help the weak, remembering the words of the Lord Jesus, how he said, 'It is more blessed to give than to receive.'" And when he had spoken thus, he knelt down and prayed with them all.

The Reading from the Gospel according to St. John (Jn 17:1-13)

At that time, Jesus lifted up his eyes to heaven and said, "Father, the hour has come; glorify thy Son that the Son may glorify thee, since thou hast given him power over all flesh, to give eternal life to all whom thou hast given him. And this is eternal life, that they know thee the only true God, and Jesus Christ whom thou hast sent. I glorified thee on earth, having accomplished the work which thou gavest me to do; and now, Father, glorify thou me in thy own presence with the glory which I had with thee before the world was made. "I have manifested thy name to the men whom thou gavest me out of the world; thine they were, and thou gavest them to me, and they have kept thy word. Now they know that everything that thou hast given me is from thee; for I have given them the words which thou gavest me, and they have received them and know in truth that I came from thee; and they have believed that thou didst send me. I am praying for them; I am not praying for the world but for those whom thou hast given me, for they are thine; all mine are thine, and thine are mine, and I am glorified in them. And now I am no more in the world, but they are in the world, and I am coming to thee. Holy Father, keep them in thy name, which thou hast given me, that they may be one, even as we are one. While I was with them, I kept them in thy name, which thou hast given me; I have guarded them, and none of them is lost but the son of perdition, that the scripture might be fulfilled. But now I am coming to thee; and these things I speak in the world, that they may have my joy fulfilled in themselves.
